CROWDS ATTEND GRAPE FESTIVAL

CHIEF BIRTHDAY PARTY CELEBRATED WITH MELON SLICING; GRAPE FESTIVAL

Thousands of people from all parts of Comanche County, from Brown, Erath, Mills, Eastland, and Hamilton counties, as well as some from distant parts of the state and even a few from other states were in Comanche last Tuesday to attend the Grape Festival and Watermelon Slicing and to celebrate the 53rd birthday of the Comanche Chief. The whole square was literally filled with men, women, and children and the crowd overflowed the whole town. It is hard to estimate its size, but many have said that it was the largest crowd ever seen in Comanche. The crowd began to gather soon after noon and reached its maximum about four o'clock.

Comanche's popular band under the direction of the new leader, Mr. Smith, furnished some real music for the occasion and left no doubts in the minds of those present why the Lions of Texas designated the Comanche Band as their official band for the state.

The formal program then began with D. K. Doyle acting as master of ceremonies.

Rev. J. C. Boyd, former pastor of the local Baptist Church and beloved by every one who knows him and who in a large measure is responsible for development of the interest in the fruit industry, addressed the crowd for more than thirty minutes during which time he again pointed out the almost unlimited possibilities of the Comanche fruit and truck industry; he also congratulated the Chief on its past achievements, its service to the community, and predicted for it a bright future.

The County candidates who are in the run-off were next introduced and in a few pointed remarks placed their claims before the people. Following this Judges Davenport and Hickman, both candidates for Associate Justice of Civil Appeal of the court of Eastland made brief, but pertinent remarks.

After a number of talks by local citizens and prominent visitors, the band played another selection. Promptly as the Court House clock struck four the great watermelon slicing began. Big watermelons, as fine as ever grew in any section, many of them weighing over fifty pounds, and having been on ice until thoroughly cold, were ripped open and their red, luscious flesh exposed to the eager hungry crowd as more than thirty representative business men drew their large butcher knives which had been whetted for the occasion. These melons were especially selected for the feast and any casual observer who watched the crowd eat could tell that no mistake had been made. The big crowd though at all times orderly, ate, ate, and then ate some more and when they could no longer stand up to the task, many finished on their knees, and yet the fine taste of the Comanche melons never failed them. As good as the water melons were, only a few if any can claim that they were better than the big fine bunches of Comanche grapes that were served the crowd. And even if a person had no taste for the grapes, he could not refuse them on this occasion, since they were served by 30 as pretty girls as ever graced any king's court. Grapes of all kind and sizes to suit every different taste were served freely to the crowd, and the way they ate, left no doubt as to the popularity of the grape festival.

All during the program and feast, hundreds of people visited the Chief office to view fruit exhibit and to congratulate the Chief on reaching another mile stone of progress.

Among others who spoke at the watermelon slicing and grape carnival were Jim White, editor of the Brownwood Bulletin and G. V. Nallie, marketing agent for the Cotton Belt Railway.

Samples of Luscious Grapes and Big Watermelons Grown in Comanche

Some bunches of grapes Charlotte Durham is holding in her hands, aren't they? About as long as her forearm and almost as wide as the smile on her face. They are a sample of the grapes raised on the sandy loam land on the outskirts of Comanche. The Miss is the 4 year old daughter of N. N. Durham a Comanche druggist. And isn't that a whopper of a watermelon? Bigger around than Frances Ellen Durham, and almost as tall. They out weigh her almost 50 to one, for they tip the scales close to 70 pounds each. That's the kind of melons they are growing in Comanche county. And they are just as juicy as they are large. Evelyn is the 4 year old daughter of W. M. Durham, cashier, First National Bank of Comanche, pioneer "nut"-pecan-man of Comanche and raiser of peaches as large as your fist. Photo courtesy Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

THE CUNNINGHAM REUNION HELD

One hundred and seventy four relatives and descendants of the late Captain James and Susie Cunningham assembled Sunday and Monday in the twenty sixth annual reunion of the Cunningham family at the well known re-union grounds, a beautiful grove near Newburg, nine miles south of Comanche.

This years attendance was one of the largest on record, and yet there were 302 of the connection who were not able to be present. A spirit of sadness prevailed during the first day on account of the burial of Mrs. R. T. Cunningham, who died on the 14th. All those who were at the reunion attended in a body, making the largest funeral procession seen in the county in many years. This is the second death that has occurred in the family within the last few weeks, George W. Cunningham of San Angelo, having died about two weeks ago.

Captain James Cunningham settled with his family in what is now Comanche County in 1855, a year before the county was organized, and his children, Dick Jim, and Tom, who still live in the county, have therefore been citizens of this section for 71 years. The Cunningham family probably have more connections than any other family in the county. There have been five deaths, five marriages, and sixteen births since the re-union of last year. It is thus seen that the Cunningham tribe is still gaining and their influence will likely be felt for all time to come in Comanche County.

Judge Tom Cunningham of Eastland is president of the association and Miss Ola Cunningham, teacher of English in Comanche High

According to a phone message, received by Oscar Callaway from Moody headquarters, Dan Moody will speak in Comanche Thursday August 26 at 10 o'clock A. M.

The Moody Campaign committee asks us to announce that a Moody Rally will be held Saturday at 3 o'clock at which time Oscar Callaway will speak.

Comanche Man Made Vice President of Highway Association

Fifty men from Brown, Erath, Comanche, Mills and McCulloch counties attended a Highway No. 10 meeting at the Chamber of Commerce at Brownwood last Tuesday. A permanent organization was effected and Fred Abney of Brownwood was elected president, C. P. St Clair of Comanche, vice president, and G. D. Crabtree of Brownwood secretary. An executive committee, consisting of representatives from each county, was appointed to meet at Brownwood August 30. C. P. St Clair was appointed chairman of the Comanche County committee.

At this meeting in August a committee will be appointed to confer with the State Highway Commission relative to extending Highway between Brady and Rock Springs. There is a gap now of about 50 miles between Brady and Del Rio where the road is incomplete. When this stretch is complete, there will be a fine highway leading all the way from Denton to Del Rio.

COMANCHE COUNTY WILL COMPETE FOR PRIZE

Business men of Stephenville are offering a $200.00 scholarship in John Tarlton College to the County sending the largest delegation to the district Farm Bureau meeting at Stephenville August 26th and 27th. Delegations are not limited to members of the Farm Bureau. In the county winning this scholarship the prize will go to the boy or girl making the best record in some farm project during the year of 1927. Do you think it worth while to have several hundred Comanche County boys and girls working at some farm project next year with a scholarship to John Tarlton as one of the goals? If you do, help us win it. It makes no difference whether you belong to the Farm Bureau or not. Just attend the meeting and register from Comanche county. I thank you.

Yours very truly,
R. A. Luker
President Comanche County Farm Bureau.

A determined effort is being made by the people of Comanche County, led by N. H. Payne of the Farm Bureau to win a $200 prize for some worthy boy or girl of this county.

Church of Christ Revival in Progress

The crowds at the Gospel meeting conducted by the Church of Christ are much larger than last year. The interest is fine. Everyone is cordially invited to every service. The following subjects will be discussed the remainder of the week; Friday night, "Baptism", Saturday night, "The Gospel Railroad", Sunday night, "The Thief on the Cross." The meeting will continue next week. The elders urge all people to come and hear these sermons.

POTATO GROWERS URGED TO MEET SATURDAY

F. E. Gilmore of Dallas president of the Producers Sweet Potato Exchange of Dallas will visit Comanche Saturday in the interest of the erection of a potato curing plant and desires all potato growers who will have a crop to market this season, to meet with him.

Mr. Gilmore was in Comanche a week ago and looked over the potato acreage and feels that Comanche has sufficient acreage and promises sufficient yield to justify the erection of a plant here and which he is willing to do if he can get the co-operation of the growers and the assurance that he will have potatoes to cure.

The establishment of a curing plant in Comanche is of vital interest, not only to our farmers but to our business people and we feel that Mr. Gilmore can expect every reasonable support in his undertaking. The meeting Saturday will be held in the District Court room at two o'clock p. m.

Wilson Fielder to Preach at Baptist Church Sunday

Wilson Fielder will preach at the local Baptist church next Sunday at both the morning and evening hour.

Uncle Joel Nabers Honored By Lions

Uncle Joel Nabers was honored Monday evening when he was enrolled as an honorary member of the Comanche Lions Club in recognition of his long life of service in Comanche county.

Few people in the county have had as long a continuous residence as has Uncle Joel. He removed to Comanche county in 1857, coming here from Bell county, where he was born in Little River Valley in 1848. He has never lived out of the county since then, and says the total number of months spent outside of its boundaries since that date will not number three.

He first settled with his parents on Indian Creek, about a mile south of the present site of Comanche a year before it was founded.

Long or heavy hauling, especially oil field work.

Texas Power & Light Making Improvements

The Texas Power and Light Company is building a new line from Dublin to Brownwood; the old line is being torn down and the new one is following more closely the highway.

A force of workmen numbering some two dozen are making Comanche their headquarters and now working towards Dublin and will later work towards Brownwood. They will maintain headquarters in Comanche for about six weeks.

MISS VAN HEERDEN MARRIED TO CARSON VANCELEAVE

Following is a clipping from the Waupun, Wis., paper concerning the marriage of Carson Vancleave, formerly of Comanche.

"Waupun, Wis.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Maastricht 729 East Main St. was the scene of a most attractive wedding this afternoon at 2 o'clock when their only daughter Miss Genevieve Van Hierden became the bride of Carson Van Cleave of Fort Worth.

"The Maastricht home was beautifully decorated for the wedding with pink and white cut flowers, green ferns and potted plants. The impressive marriage ceremony was read by Rev. J. H. Kregel and preceding the ceremony Miss Janette Giebink accompanied by Miss Dorothy Meenk sang "O Promise Me."

Mr. and Mrs. Vancleave left by auto for a short wedding trip. They expect to return for a short visit before going to Milwaukee where they will be at home at 410 Bishop Ave.

The bride is a young lady of pleasing personality a graduate of the Waupun high school after graduating from the Wisconsin Commercial school at Milwaukee. She is a talented musician and has served as organist for the Reform Church for the past ten years.

Mr. Vancleave received his education at the University of Texas following his graduation from high school and holds a responsible position with the Nash Motor Company of Milwaukee."

Comanche County Educator Honored

A Comanche county educator was honored last week when forty country school superintendents attending the A. & M. Short Course at College Station, elected Henry L. Gantz, superintendent of Comanche county schools, as head of their state organization.

Other officers elected were, Mrs. Cora Ferguson, Grosbeck, vice chairman, and Mrs. George Felter, Austin, secretary.

This is the second honor that has recently come to Superintendent Gantz as he was elected chairman of the county superintendents section of the State Teachers' Association which meets at El Paso in November.

Lions Making Efforts For Cannery Here

A committee consisting of John P. Hoff, D. K. Doyle and W. H. Carpenter was appointed by the Lions Club Monday evening to make an effort to secure an increased acreage in berries grown around Comanche and to further the movement to secure a cannery.

Public Relations

THE TEXAS POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY is a public servant operating a public utility, designed to meet a fundamental public need. It is fully aware of the limitations--and the obligations--involved in such a relationship.

The Texas Power and Light Company has one thing to sell--Service. In payment, it must receive from the people not only their money, but also their good will.

The good will of the people of this state and of this city is essential to the Texas Power and Light Company. It is our business to deserve it and give value received--just as it is our business to give service to patrons in return for their money.

Good will is based on understanding, and we believe it is vitally important to the future of your community that its citizens shall know and understand the policies--and the problems--of their public utility organizations.

It is important that, in their treatment of these organizations, the people shall be guided by their best judgment of what will actually promote the welfare of this community.

It is important for them to know that, if the community is to enjoy a future commensurate with its opportunities, money must be spent for development in such amounts as only the investing public of the country can supply.

In its dealings with the public, the Texas Power and Light Company realizes that its service must achieve the highest standards of economy, efficiency, honesty, and courtesy.

To that end the Company and its representatives will continue faithfully to address themselves.

In return, it asks that the public, in assessing its qualifications for rendering this service, approach the task in a spirit of calm open-mindedness, remembering that, in the last analysis we share a common aspiration--the ultimate growth and prosperity of this community.

BROWNWOOD, TEXAS

AT DEDICATION OF LAKE EANES BY W. D. VAN BLARCOMB

Mayor. Citizens of Comanche,
Visitors to the fair West
City;

much pleasure it gives me to
part of this gathering today, could not tell you. I feel that one of you on this occasion
a part of that citizenship which adding a new and a greater Texas—which is building a erous agricultural and com-al community where once was cattle country and a few years
e that a Red Man's home where also roamed untamed and where Comanche Indian for whom city is named was master of plain and forest.

What has happened in those years
the Comanches left this coun-
Your city tells the story well.
happy, peaceful homes, your
ols, your churches, your farms,
orchards, your prosperous busi-concerns—all these tell the y better than words could speak
Most of you know that story bet-
than I—but, if you will pardon
personal reference, we of the Star gram force know it a direct and re important way; for the Star
gram has been part of that with. Our paper has grown
; and it could not have grown
out you.

Going back twenty years to the
th of the Star Telegram; and u reach the date of the birth of new West Texas. Just a few years ior to that yours was a cattle untry—and cattle were as poor a operty then as man might own.
y cows brought but half a dozen llars per head; your calves you uld not give away. And your lands ere so nearly without value that insurance company money lends
all me that they had a "West Texas headline" on loans and that iminary, though vitally real line
an between your city and the next ounty seat to the east—Stephensille. West of that line—and your autiful city was west of that line—
no single dollar of life insurance company money could be loaned, no matter how good the security might appear. That was how the business interests of the East looked upon West Texas in the Nineties and up to 1905.

But West moved west; and Central Texas, too, moved west. Today
your city is the center of the richest state in all the Union; and your people prosper as they never prospered before. And that is proof of what perseverance will do for a community, and for a country and for a city.

So coming back from those other days of the pioneer to these days of the comfort lover; from those days
of development to these days of accomplishment; from those days of the log hut to these days of the brick school house, we find ourselves celebrating an accomplishment of which any city may justly feel proud—the bringing into being of a great water supply of which shall forever supply your city with water from a source which is inexhaustible and in quantities ample for a city many times your size.

Paul of Tarsus declared himself
a "citizen of no mean city;" and I am sure your mayor can go anywhere and everywhere in this broad land assured that the accomplishment whose fruition we celebrate today makes Comanche a municipality of which he and every other citizen may justly feel proud.

And here I may be pardoned if I turn aside a moment to pay a well deserved tribute to that man without whom this accomplishment might never have been and certainly would have been long delayed.

Leaders are vital in any undertaking. Without leaders, failure is inevitable. And cities are blessed if they have good wise, efficient, and far-seeing leadership. Comanche has been so blessed, and in a measure which many a city of many times your size might well envy. I have watched, and not always from a distance—the growth of Comanche.
I have carried day after day and week after week accounts of this achievement and that undertaking.
I have been surprised at the unvarying success which has been achieved
here. But I have not been at a loss, my friends, to account for your growth. I have known that always at the helm of your municipality was a man who knew what he was doing;
who could fix upon his goal a long way off; and who would never give up in despair until success was his.

I have watched Mayor Eanes lead you on from one achievement to the next—surely meeting and overcoming every obstacle as it came—surely moving forward, delayed now and then but faltering never—building better and stronger with every new day.

I have never feared for the success of this undertaking—this building of a great water supply almost you might say where no water was.
I knew that Mayor Eanes had planned intelligently, efficiently, and well; and I knew that some day Comanche would hail the opening of the gates and the turning in of the water with a tribute to a mayor than whom no city boasts a better.

And linked with this achievement
is another, scarcely less important to your city and its people. Just as water is the vital factor in the building of a social community; so is natural gas the vital factor in the building of an industrial community.
So it gives me double pleasure here today to know that Comanche is soon to be in that list of Texas cities—and there are today many of them—which offer natural gas at a reasonable price to the young industry seeking a home.

And here again, pardon me if I turn aside a moment to urge upon you the importance of the tin bucket brigade. Texas has vital need for factories; and there are a hundred industries which could be made successful here in your community. It has been but a few years since steamer after steamer came down the coast from Baltimore to Galveston, loaded with what? Hundreds of thousands and literally millions of cans of Maryland canned tomatoes!

Why, it seemed that Texas was living on canned tomatoes. At the same time train load after train load of canned corn was coming down here from Missouri and Illinois! Those people in southern Illinois had no idea we ate anything but canned corn. And we paid out all our cotton money for canned tomatoes from Maryland and canned corn from Illinois; and what cotton money we had left we paid out to Massachusetts for cotton cloth—and we paid the freight on that canned tomatoes and that canned corn and that cotton cloth, and my friends, we were always broke when we got through paying that bill!

Things are changing now. The process may be slow, but it is sure.
Your county farm agents and your demonstration agents are teaching farm wives how to can their own tomatoes and their own corn. Why,
they tell me that on Texas farms
last year there were more than five million cans of tomatoes and corn put up for winter use. And in Texas
there are nearly a dozen textile mills making cotton cloth—and you don't have to buy Massachusetts cotton goods of you don't want to—
You can get better cotton sheets
made right here in Texas than ever did come from Massachusetts!

And so with your plentiful water supply and your natural gas you are in position to invite canning factories and cotton factories and other industries to come into your city and make their home; and if I know the moral of your mayor and your people you are not going to rest on your oars now and trust to the current to take your municipal ship upstream but you are going to keep your shoulders to the wheel and, under the intelligent leadership of your indefatigable mayor, you are going to build your town into one of the livest, most progressive and most prosperous cities of this new West Texas—a city of homes, of schools,

of churches, true—but also a home
of industry, of commercial success—
a real city of which you and I and all real Texans will continue to be proud. I thank You.

WRITES OF TRIP TO SHORT COURSE

To The Comanche Chief

Having been asked my opinion of the A & M Short Course, and whether or not the trip was worth while, I am sending you an account of it so the readers of the Chief may judge for themselves;

"I left home about six o'clock Sunday morning for Comanche where I met about twenty others all diked up and rearing to go, and a jollier crowd I never saw.

"We went by the way of Hamilton, Valley Mills and Waco. At the latter place we met a crowd from Erath county and all had a real feast at Cameron Park. After lunch we were again on our way and reached Marlin about three o'clock. Here we drank some cold water from Marlin's fine wells, some of the boys as well as 170 pound fellows thought ice had been placed in it, but they were finally convinced by the natives that it comes from the wells just that cold.

After wandering around for about a half hour, we finally made our way out of town and were going down the pike, when about sun down, our leader, N. H. Payne called us to a halt for supper. We spread the grub out under the shade of some tall trees and while disposing of it in a rapid fashion, we talked over the scenes of the day.

"We arrived at College Station about eight o'clock and went at once to the main building where we were assigned our rooms and given our meal ticket. I went to bed at once, but am not responsible for the others and cannot say what they did.

"From Monday until Friday I and the others were learning some thing every minute. There was not a problem or issue came up, but what some man or teacher was ready to explain it in every detail for us and all their experts were at our service. I think it was the finest thing I ever attended in my life. It was my first visit, but it will not be my last. I took my little grandson with me and will state frankly that I would not take $100 for what he saw and learned.

"Well this letter is getting long and I will have to stop and pick some peas and will close by advising every one next year to go to College Station and attend the Short Course.

Sincerely,
G. L. Garrison.

Chief Completes fifty Three Years Service to Comanche

With this issue The Comanche Chief completes fifty three years service to Comanche. When a man completes fifty three years service to mankind, usually his life is nearing its end. But institutions go on through generations and generations.

The Comanche Chief is the oldest institution in Comanche and among the oldest institutions in West Texas. For nearly three score years it has borne in its columns stories of joy and stories of sadness, of success and of failure, of doubt and of accomplishment.

There are many whose coming into the world it has heralded and whose passing it has chronicled. There are those whose success it has rejoiced in and their continued success it appreciates.

There is scarcely a family who has resided in the County for any number of years to whom the Chief has not rendered kindness and there are few indeed for whom it has not been the recipient of favors.

In the building of Comanche and Comanche's businesses the Chief has always played a part and while every thing that was for the good of all that has been attempted has not been accomplished, still in many of the worth while undertakings of the citizenship as a whole and as individuals there have been very few in which it has not contributed toward the eventual success.

And it is the ambition of the Chief and its management, in every thing worth while to contribute not its part, but what it may to the end that Comanche and Comanche's people many accomplish those successes to labors entitle them. And it is the desire of the management that for another half a century the Chief can continue to assist in building Comanche and with it build to its own success.

RECEIVES MUCH PUBLICITY FROM THE DAILY PRESS

"We will admit Comanche is a great town. We will go even further and admit that it is situated in a great County. Others are beginning to find it out.

For the past several weeks, Comanche and its immediate territory has received an unusual amount of publicity from the daily papers in this section.

The Fort Worth Star Telegram in particular has been generous with its space devoting three articles in its space to Comanche and its happenings and each being of a full column length. For the past two weeks Mondays paper has carried stories giving the picture of our new Post Office and its manager to be, and of some of our choicest products both agricultural and human.

Among other papers are the Waco Times Herald which has given our county more editorial publicity than it has McClennan and, and the Brownwood Bulletin, which has not only devoted its editorial columns but its news columns to Comanche.

WATER MELONS IN BIG DEMAND

People are prone to wail loudly at their misfortunes but of their blessings to make but little noise.

Much has been said about the disastrous prices paid for the melon crop of Comanche County and it has not been such as to bring joy to the growers however it is not as bad as might be thought by some who stand ready at all times to cry out that disaster is at hand.

During the past three weeks there have gone out of Comanche daily an average of ten trucks per day loaded with products of Comanche County melon patches. And the price has ranged from ten to twenty cents per melon at the patch. It is estimated that these trucks are hauling from the town an average of a thousand melons per day which we are forced to admit is a good many watermelons.

Even at these lower prices to most of the growers these melons have been profitable—probably more so than any other crop they will raise this year.

And some of those best skilled in raising the crop they have proved very profitable when the melons have been sold as one grower did at twenty cents per melon on the vine.

Right now melons are scarce but there are growers that have them these are the ones that will find their melon crop most highly profitable.

THE GRAPE INDUSTRY

Comanche's Possibilities

Grapes

"An edible berry growing in clusters on a grape vine," Webster's definition.

Now who ever heard of a grape being a berry.

I'll confess that I didn't, but Webster says so and it must be so.

My earliest recollection of grapes carries me back to our old farm when we had the old fashioned Mustang grapes which grew in extremely large clusters while the vine covered completely the tree on which it grew.

It was our custom to begin eating these grapes when about one-half grown and continued until the last grape disappeared—sour!! I'll say they were sour, a brine cucumber pickle is sweet compared with them, but what did that matter to a country boy that could and would sit in a hack-berry tree for hours eating its luscious red berry. Yes and enjoy them too.

In those early days we were completely satisfied and accepted them as the best in grape culture.

These great Mustangs together with the smaller grapes fought with the poison ivy for position on the tree.

For many years following that "ay no efforts were made in this country to improve the stock, to introduce the new and improved varieties, neither was a thought given to selling grapes for profits. All grapes were community grapes—first come first served. How the grape industry has grown and become such a vital factor in the lives of the present generation is history. With California leading the industry, has spread until it covers a large portion of the south, being especially profitable in deep sand belts such as the northern portion of Comanche County.

In such soil you may reasonably expect very handsome returns from your efforts.

When the 18th amendment was adopted, California with its hundreds of thousands of acres of grapes thought that this great industry was ruined, but not so. Through co-operative raising and marketing, through advertising of the benefits of using grapes and grape products, that industry has grown and prospered as near as before.

Today you will see grape products on every grocer's shelf, the juice, raisins and all kinds of packages with and without seed, made and "Sun made," and now why not raise them in like quantities in Comanche County? We have the soil, and do they grow here now? Drive out to Cuthbertson's little sandy land farm and see for your self. Man alive you just must see what he is doing out there, but if you would see it at its best you must go quickly as he is marketing about one ton of grapes per day.

If you don't understand all you know about it, ask Charlie, he'll tell you a few of the facts and give you the figures.

I am strongly for Comanche County sandy belt for grapes, but if you would reap the harvest you must plant, afterwards your main burden will be the harvest. No other plant is easier raised and cared for after you get a start.

Of course as yet we have no established system of marketing, but that will follow as our acreage increases, still our home market and near by towns are consuming the entire output of our present acreage.

Mrs. St Clair has just put up some lovely grape jelly which looks good and tastes good, and I have been told that grape juice may be successfully preserved by adding a certain amount of sugar, so it may be bottled and used later on. So much for the grapes.

Now we should not get discouraged over the water melon situation. It seems that the whole world raised melons this season with the result that there's no active market for them. This won't happen every year. You had a good season last year and perhaps next year will be even better than 1925.

Keep your good seed for 1927, but don't go hog wild on the question, just a few acres for melons, and by all means start that vineyard.

Yours for diversification,
C. P. St Clair

HEARD ABOUT COMANCHE

AT A. & M. SHORT COURSE

"Where are you from?" said a Bryan business man to a Comanche county man at the Short Course at A. & M. College. "Comanche" said the Comanche, without feeling it necessary to draw down his chest a particle. "Well, Comanche is certainly a good progressive town, isn't it," said the Bryan man. He said that he had been noticing in the public prints something about what was being done over here.

"I want to get on the exchange list of the Comanche Chief," said an editor from Northwest Texas. "I want to keep in touch with any town that puts over things like Comanche does," he explained.

Ray Camp of The Texas Outlook was in Comanche last year when the Chief's birthday party and the water melon slicing were held. He said last week that he had told "forty people" over Texas about Comanche and that celebration. He also took occasion to tell about it at one of the sessions of the Agricultural Writers' Conference at the Short Course.

"I WAS in a very weakened, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs. J. R. Wrenn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker."

"I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry."

"I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I was stronger than I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui."

Thousands of others have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetites, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength. It has been found of great benefit in so many cases of weakness, that you should surely try it, when in need of a good tonic.

May I again Ask Your Support

The critical illness of my mother has made it impossible for me to see as many of the voters as I would like to have seen, during the run-off campaign.

Almost a majority of you gave me your support in the first primary, and I appreciate that fact, and again assure you of my appreciation of your vote on August 28th.

I will also appreciate the support of any of those who in the previous campaign supported either of my honorable opponents.

Sincerely,

DODGE BROTHERS DE LUXE SEDAN

People select motor cars by different standards.

Some desire luxury and ostentation. Others, utility and economy alone.

Dodge Brothers De Luxe Sedan strikes a fine and distinguished balance—both in appearance and price—between these two extremes.

It provides unusual comfort and roominess; a refinement of line and design in which the owner takes deep pride; and everywhere in the world the name it bears is associated with the highest standards of integrity and workmanship.

With reasonable care, the De Luxe Sedan serves its owners for years, frequently delivers mileage running well into six figures, and on the resale market brings prices that strikingly reflect the solid value Dodge Brothers have built into it.

Mrs. G. R. Hart Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Martha Yarborough Hart died at her home in Comanche Thursday, August 19, 1925, at 6:30 a. m., after suffering as an invalid many months. The funeral took place yesterday at 4:30 p. m. services conducted at the family residence by Dr. Forrest Maddox, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and interment was made in Oakwood Cemetery. Surviving her are one son, Lewis N. Hart, of Hamilton, and three daughters, Mrs. H. N. Lunkin of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Will Irwin of Brownwood and Miss Iva Hart who lived with the mother. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. R. M. Garner, of Comanche, and a brother, Will Yarborough, of Bangs, Texas.

Martha Yarborough was born in Rome, Georgia, October 5, 1843, daughter of Judge Nathan Yarborough and came to Texas with her parents in 1867, first settling in Hill County, but moving to Comanche in 1869. She was married to Capt. Geo. Robert Hart in Comanche May 12, 1872 and has resided here continuously since Capt. Hart preceded her to the grave ten or twelve years ago. They have five children in all including those above mentioned, and Mrs. Arthur Lovelace, who died some years ago. She united with the Baptist Church in her young girlhood and remained a consistent member some seventy years, joining the Comanche Church April 17, 1881 by letter. She is the oldest member of that Church by continuous affiliation now living. In her earlier life she was a devoted church worker, continuing until the cares of a family and physical disability forced her to retirement from active work. Notwithstanding many trials, privations, and hardships she was of a cheerful habit, and will be badly missed by a host of long-time friends who sincerely sympathize with the survivors of the family.

The New Chevrolet

Never before in all the history of our Chevrolet selling, have we shown such wonderful cars as the new 1927 line now on our floor, said Mr. C. W. Williams, manager of the auto department of Higginbotham Brothers and Company. He further said: "They have new smoothness, new features and new colors."

Their smoothness is astonishing. Forty to fifty miles per hour without the slightest sense of forcing or fatigue—over the stiffest hills with power to spare—such are the almost revolutionary qualities attained by a new superior method of mounting the motor in the chassis and by a new camshaft with scientifically determined quieting curves. You will admire the brilliant beauty of the new and striking Duco colors on every model! Rich Algerian Blue on the Sedan; smart Thebes Gray on the Coach; Alpine Green on the Landau; Dundee Gray on the Coupe; and on all open models, modish Biscay Green. Mark the greater convenience of the centralized throttle and spark control! Note that all enclosed models with their bodies by Fisher now carry an approved stop-light as standard equipment and have a handy front door pocket.

Such said Mr. Williams is the new and remarkable 1927 Chevrolet that we are now distributing to our customers.

G. H. Dunlap Dies Thursday Morning

G. H. Dunlap, 73, died at his home near Creamer Thursday morning, after an illness of than 3 months he having been confined to his bed since May 15, when he suffered a stroke of paralysis. He will be buried this morning at 10 o'clock at the Board Church cemetery, the Rev. O. A. Morton of Gustine conducting the funeral.

He was born August 16, 1853 in Jamestown, Arkansas, where he grew to manhood. About fifty years ago he was married to Cynthia Ann Elms, who survives him. About twenty years ago he left Arkansas and came to Comanche County, Texas, and settled near Creamer. He has continuously lived in that community since with the exception of two years spent in Throckmorton a few years ago.

Besides his widow he is survived by the following children: D. C. W. A. and T. H. Dunlap of Comanche A. A., O. E. and Archie Dunlap of Throckmorton, Mrs. Gertie (H.B.) Evans of Comanche and Mrs. Geo. (J.L.) Williams of Elbert, Texas. He also has a brother, J. H. Dunlap at Pioneer, Texas and a brother and several sisters in the old states.

Woman Pioneer Passes Away

Following an illness of several weeks, Mrs. R. T. Cunningham, resident of Comanche County for more than half a century passed away at the family residence in Comanche Friday evening August 13th.

She was laid to rest in the Newburg cemetery Sunday morning at ten o'clock, Dr. Forrest Maddox conducting the services, the funeral being attended by probably the greatest gathering of kinspeople ever in the history of this little cemetery which contains the graves of so many of the county's best known and loved citizens.

Mrs. Cunningham, Lutitia Wright, was born May 19, 1847 near Fayetteville Arkansas and as a baby was brought to Bell County Texas by her parents where her father died when she was only three and her mother when she was only seven. Reared by her older brothers and sisters, she was brought to Comanche County while still a girl and was married to Richard Fankersly Cunningham November 24th, 1864.

To Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham were born the following children: James Mitchell Cunningham, who died at the age of seventeen; Jack, of Texon; E. I. of Big Lake; Elina Harris who died March 25th, 1926; Kin, of Comanche; Elzora Johnson, of Goree; Effie Martin, of Malakoff; Lewis T. of Comanche; R. A., of Rockdale; Dollie Callaway, of Athens; and Will C., of Dallas. And of her living children all were at her bedside some time during her last illness.

She is survived by the living children mentioned above; her husband; two brothers, Capt. T. C. Wright of Temple and Capt. J. A. Wright of Comanche; two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Cunningham of Newburg and Mrs. Nanny Cannefax of Oklahoma City; twenty four grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Aunt Lou, as she was familiarly called, was quite, unostentatious, and wholly unselfish. In all the many trials that come with the rearing of a large family she was never known to raise her voice above the normal tone by way of rebuke. Hers indeed, was a life of "sweet ordering."

No more beautiful tribute, nor one more characteristically true can be given than that which came with the request of her children that it be said in her obituary, "She was a woman without fault."

Hers was a life truly of a pioneer, lived as a child in a new and thinly settled section of the State and lived as a woman in the development of that country, its institutions and her family into usefulness and as a tribute to that life was assembled a great throng of friends to pay her their last kindness.

The pall bearers were: Sid Cunningham, Travis Cunningham, Ras Gage, Clyde House, George Wetzel, and Jack Stephens.

R. M. Wagnon Dies Monday Afternoon

R. M. Wagnon, aged 78, died at his home at May, Texas Monday and was buried in the Stag Creek Cemetery Tuesday afternoon in the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives who had gathered from Brown and Comanche counties and other parts of the State. He was buried under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge, of which he had been a member both of the Blue Lodge and Chapter for many years. The religious services were conducted by Rev. Steele, a Baptist minister who had known Mr. Wagnon and had been his pastor most of the time for fifty years.

R. M. Wagnon was born in Georgia August 4, 1848 and removed to Comanche County, Texas about fifty years ago, settling in the Stag Creek Community where he resided until about ten years ago, when he moved to May, Texas.

About a year after he came to Texas, he married Miss Eliza Bates of the Board Church community. She was the daughter of W. M. and Rosa Bates, Mr. Bates being one of the pioneer Baptist preachers of the county. Mrs. Wagnon died in 1909 and about ten years ago he was married to Mrs. Rachel Smith of near Sidney, who survives him.

For nearly a half a century he was one of the leading farmers and stock men of the county and at the time he left his ranch at Stag Creek he had 150 fine brood mares. He took a special pride in his fine stock.

He took an active part in religious work and was a member of the Baptist Church for over fifty years, being a charter member of the Stag Creek Church.

He was the father of fourteen children, eleven of whom survive him. They are: Perry Wagnon, Balmorea, Texas; Mrs. Sue (Fred) Farrell, deceased, Harvey Wagnon, Douglas Arizona; Mrs. Julia (T.H.) Jackson, Sipe Springs, Mrs. Rosa (Oscar) Redwine, Port Arthur, Texas; Bob and Seth Wagnon, Los Angeles, California; Cyrus Wagnon, deceased, Noah Wagnon, New Mexico; Mrs. Ruth (R.H.) Reeves, Blackwell, Texas; Mrs. Leah (Ed) Perry, Mercedes Texas; Burl Wagnon, May, Texas; Dow Wagnon, deceased; Miss Lota Wagnon, Mercedes. He is also survived by one brother, Uncle Bill, who lives near Gap.

The following relatives were in Comanche this week to attend the funeral of Mrs. R. T. Cunningham: Jap Adams, Hico; Dave Deaton, Stephenville Texas; Dick Wright, Onlin Texas; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Armstrong, of Brownwood; and Tom Cunningham, Hamilton, Mr and Mrs J. R. Lewis, Brownwood; Mrs. Oscar Mason, Cisco; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wilson of Sipe Springs; and Mrs. Ada Wright of Hico.
